Pictures!

We have had a number of inquiries concerning the pictures of service men that were turned in several weeks ago. These pictures were held up at the engravers for more than five weeks, but are arriving daily. Pictures in this week's paper are mainly of those who have lost their lives. We hope those who have waited patiently for their pictures to appear in the paper will understand that this is Memorial Week, and is the time when special honors should be given to those who will never return. The regular routine of service men's pictures will be followed. Thank you—L. H.

Waterfield Urges Democrats To Register by June 5

A plea that all Democrats be certain of their registration and join in the effort to get the names of all eligible Democratic voters on the books, has been sounded by Harry Lee Waterfield, organization director for the Democratic party in Kentucky.

"Registration is vital to a political party," Waterfield declared, "as it is only by getting the names of the voters on the books and then seeing they cast their ballots, that a political party can express itself and see its policies put into effect through election of party candidates."

"Registration books are now open in the County Clerk's offices in this city on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, with eight periods per week. Mr. Graham recommends that high school students take only two subjects which will give one credit. Additional subjects will require special arrangements. No extra curricula activities will be offered this summer. Special emphasis on class room work will be the feature of the school."

"I'm helping them get what Joe died for!"

Mike and Tony are too young to remember their father.

Joe died in Africa, at Kasserine Pass, in a battle that already seems long, long ago...

Died for his country—though Joe might have put it differently. What America meant to Joe was mostly Mike and Tony; the opportunity it meant for his kids.

A college education. A real start in the world, and freedom to grow in.

And they're going to have it!

I'm buying War Bonds—and keeping them.

They're the safest investment on earth.

In less than ten years now, I'll have four dollars for every three I put in. That's as good as a 33% pay raise! That money will go a long way to educate the kids, to establish them in life the way Joe wanted.

And it's comforting to know the money's there, if I need it—against any emergency that may come.

Joe did his part for our children, I'm going to do mine. I'm keeping my War Bonds—and buying as many new ones as I can.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:
 1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
 2. For "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
 Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

 It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.
 You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up piggy, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.
 There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

Letters to Editor

Murray, Ky., May 28, 1945.
 Ledger & Times,
 Murray, Ky.

I should like to use this means to say good-bye and express my sincere appreciation to all my friends in Murray who have contributed so much to the four years of happiness for my family and me.

In our opinion, Murray is one of the finest cities within the Tennessee Valley area. It offers every environment for a good citizenship in good churches, schools, clubs, Scouts, and the very best in outdoor recreation. All of these advantages are reflected through the people with whom we have been associated. This is especially true among the young people of the town in their high type, moral habits and clean characters. Nor should I fail to include the good neighbors whom we have been privileged to enjoy.

We feel deeply grieved to have to leave Murray, but we shall always hold the kindest feelings for our friends in Murray and hope that some day we may return to make it our permanent home.

Earle C. Robertson.

OPA Charges Five West Ky. Dealers With Sugar Shortage

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 29.—The Louisville district Office of Price Administration announced today that suits had been filed in Federal District Court against five western Kentucky wholesale sugar dealers and that suspension hearings had been ordered against 12 others.

The suits charge violations of OPA regulations in the sale of sugar. The OPA said some dealers were short 250,000 pounds of sugar, on which they were without coupons to cover.

The OPA listed defendants in the five suits as Fred B. Black, Covington Brothers and Company and M. Livingston and Company, Paducah; Murray Wholesale Grocery Company and Boatwright and Company, Murray.

Cash Awards Offered To Farmers by Courier-Journal and Louisville Times

Cash awards totalling $5000, a $2200 increase over past years, will be given winning Kentucky and Southern Indiana farmers, tenant farmers and farm women in the eighth Home and Farm Improvement Campaign. It was announced yesterday by Mark Ethridge, publisher of The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times and general manager of radio station WHAS, which sponsor the contest.

This year the grand prizes have been increased from six to ten. The Kentucky district prizes have been tripled from nine to twenty-seven. All women's prizes for both Kentucky and Indiana have been made the same as the men's prizes.

The form of the contest is now a time-saving questionnaire with separate sets for men and for women and must be filled out and sent to the two papers by midnight, November 15.

Awards will be announced no later than December 15 and grand prize winners will receive their prizes at the annual Home and Farm Improvement Campaign Luncheon in Louisville.

Last year's grand prize winners were Cecil D. Bell, Lexington, Fayette County, Ky., in the men's division; and Mrs. Alvah Wood, Providence, Ky., women's division.

In commenting on this year's campaign, Ethridge said, "that never before has improved agricultural production, increased farm income and better living conditions been more important to this area and that the object of this annual campaign is to encourage such progress throughout the coming years."

Agricultural educators approve the campaign. Dean Thomas Cooper, dean and director of the College of Agriculture, University said that "participation in the 1945 Home and Farm Improvement Campaign sponsored by the Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and Radio Station WHAS will give added interest to the many farm men and women who are attempting to secure the largest possible production from their farms. All who enter the contest, will, of necessity, practice good farming and home-making, for they are the basis of the contest... which offers encouragement to farm men and women for utmost accomplishment despite the difficulties of obtaining needed farm labor, supplies and machinery. I hope that many farmers and farm home-makers will enter the 1945 contest."

"The Home and Farm Campaign means a great deal to Kentucky farm home-makers," according to Miss Myrtle Weldon, State Leader.

Families Urged To Use V-Mail Letters

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Because many emergency messages sent by cable or radiogram have been delayed in reaching men in the more active war areas of the Pacific theater, Red Cross field directors are asking that families of servicemen supplement all emergency messages to this area with V-Mail letters.

Reports from Guam, Saipan, and Palau indicate that emergency message service is gradually becoming more satisfactory to these islands with the stabilization of communication facilities. The time required for sending Red Cross messages regarding family emergencies to men stationed at some locations was recently shortened with the elimination of a central Pacific relay point necessary during early operations.

Due to delay of mail to the China-Burma-India theater, more servicemen are having to rely upon already overcrowded Red Cross emergency communication facilities to help iron out home problems. Many of these messages, which replies, make the circuit between the serviceman's family and the serviceman in as little as seven days. Messages for men in the isolated sections or in areas where troops are moving rapidly, continue to be difficult to deliver.

Reports from American Red Cross field directors in the European theater indicate that much difficulty is still encountered in

Kirksey Cannery to Be Operated This Summer by School

The Kirksey Cannery will operate each Tuesday and Thursday, during the month of June. Due to the fact that the War Production Training Program has ceased, the cannery will be operated for a time by the school.

Because of the shortage of food, every family is urged to conserve all the food they can. Those desiring to can pork and beans and hominy should do so this month because it will be necessary to take care of the fresh vegetables during July and August. Those who make hominy must have an appointment as only a limited number can be taken care of each day. Anyone having any other foods they wish to can may use the cannery during the month of June.

The cannery will be operated under the supervision of Mrs. J. H. Walston, home economics teacher, locating men transferred from Italy to France or Germany since the exact destination of troops in transit is not available. In such cases, mail addressed to the man through his APO will often reach him as soon as the special message.

Rev. O. C. Wrather Visits Here

The Rev. O. C. Wrather and Mrs. Wrather visited in the county the past week-end. The Rev. Wrather, formerly presiding elder of the Parist District, is pastor of the Calloway Methodist Church in Memphis.

Rev. and Mrs. Wrather are natives of this county. Mrs. Wrather was Miss Ruby Clark and both came from the South Howard community.

They were called here because of the illness of Mrs. C. W. Clark, near Lynn Grove.

MISS CLARA WALDROP ENTERTAINS MURRAY FOLKS

A letter from Miss Clara Waldrop this week, indicates that she is connected with the Farson & Huff Advertising Agency in Louisville, and that she is interested in having her Ledger & Times changed to her new address. She also stated that she was having open house for the Murray people residing in Louisville.

Approximately 250 kitchen end-gets have been made by Henry county homemakers to add to the convenience of kitchen storage spaces.

Claude Anderson announces as candidate for Tax Commissioner

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF CALLOWAY COUNTY:

Since being solicited by many voters of the county, I have decided definitely to present myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Commissioner, subject to the action of the Democratic primary. In so doing I feel that I am not a stranger to the majority of the voters of this county, as I served you as your Tax Commissioner from 1930 to 1938. You know my record.

The Tax Commissioner should not only know taxable values, but should also know the comparative values of land in each section of the county. I feel that I am qualified to discharge the duties of the office and I promise if elected, with your help, to fairly assess the property and at the same time safeguard the interest of the county.

On account of the war this is an unusual year for a campaign. I know our thoughts first are of winning the war and of our boys in uniform. My heart goes out to the fathers and mothers of our boys in service. I think I know to some extent what our boys are going through as I served one and a half years overseas in World War I. Let's all hope and pray that the time soon comes that our boys shall all be coming home.

Under existing conditions I do not believe the good people of the county will expect a house-to-house campaign of extending to each and every voter a personal invitation for your vote and influence. I earnestly ask the sincere cooperation of my friends and voters of Calloway, to give me a chance to serve you as your next Tax Commissioner. I promise you in return honest, efficient service, and to keep an accurate record of the tax books.

I am sincerely your friend,

CLAUDE ANDERSON.

Our Honored Dead

The Ledger & Times today is dedicated to the memory of our honored dead — the soldiers of past wars who fought for our country, and the men who have given their lives that we may enjoy the things they died for and who have worn the uniform of our country in this horrible war.

This is the week that is set aside as the day of decoration and memorials. We pause here to place a wreath of flowers on the graves of all of our beloved dead, wherever they may sleep — whether it be in a friendly church yard near home, beneath a foreign soil, or resting at the bottom of the deep — we sacredly place a wreath of loving memory.

They shall not be forgotten . . . forever we will keep them close to our hearts . . . forever we will let their lives challenge us to nobler, more unselfish living.

In the words of Henry Ward Beecher we would say to those who have gone to their eternal reward . . . that we will not forget, and with their pilot light guiding us onward, we will not believe they are dead; but invisible heroes.

"Oh, tell me not that they are dead — that generous host, that army of invisible heroes! They hover as a cloud of witnesses above the nation."

"Are they dead that yet speak louder than we can speak, and a more universal language? Are they dead that yet act? Are they dead that yet move upon society, and inspire the people with nobler motives and more heroic patriotism?"

"Every mountain and hill shall have its treasured name, every river shall keep some solemn title, every valley and every lake shall cherish its honored registers; and all the mountains are worn out, and the rivers forget to flow — till the clouds are weary of replenishing springs, and the springs, forced to gush, and the hills to sigh, shall their names be kept fresh with reverent honors which are inscribed upon the book of National Remembrance."

In the pages of this paper are the pictures and the names of Calloway men who have paid the highest price in this War. Their names, their faces will forever be upon the tongues of home folks, and the hearts of us all.

May they look down upon us here in our own little community and their home, and feel they have not died in vain . . . May they know that we are holding high the torch they handed us in death . . . the torch that would give the world justice and peace, and to all human beings a better chance for "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

It matters not how long you live, but how well.

Our Community Tomorrow

Our Community Tomorrow depends upon us today. Murray is a jump ahead of many communities in her planning programs and is to be commended for her progressive programs.

In thinking of our community for tomorrow, we must give first attention to the youth of our country. The boys and girls playing happily this summer are the men and women who will determine the policies ten, fifteen, and twenty years from now.

Here, too, our community is alert. The park board or recreation board, we like to call it, is functioning for the second year, and is growing toward a more advanced and necessary program for the young people. It is being circulated around the board and open to the public this week end, a swimming pool. That will be the playground of the town. Not only has the city given the town a pool, but it has provided a park — that is doing a magnificent job while the wartime restrictions hold the development of a modern park in the off until the essential materials are released for completion of the project that was launched before Pearl Harbor.

This board is working that our children may develop creditably in the fields of health, education, recreation and leisure time, that play great parts in the making of worthwhile citizens. The board and the city council need the support of this project that involves the greatest asset of our town — our children.

The other major thing that Murray is leading in, is the Chamber of Commerce that is doing a splendid job. One of the first considerations of that office was the welfare and the interest in the rural communities. The business men who are members of the Chamber of Commerce know that our best friends and neighbors are in the country. The Chamber of Commerce is giving first interest to the progress of agriculture.

And right on the heels of the interest in agriculture and livestock and farm and home improvement, is the seeking of a good industry for this place. If nothing prevents, it looks like we will have the Tappan Stove Manufacturing Company locate here. In a letter from the administrative office Sunday, it was stated that Murray was the best place they had visited and that they were revisiting Murray this week in a final survey before closing the deal. Too much praise cannot be given the leaders in this work, and the men who, selected Max Hurt for the executive secretary, and Luther Robertson, president.

These are a few of the essential things that Murray has developed in the last few months. If the community continues to live in the same cooperative mood, each respecting his neighbor, and working for the good of all, many more good things will come our way.

Every day should be past as though it were our last.

Today My Fourth Son Volunteered!

Today my oldest son entered the armed services. He is my fourth and last son of military age to enlist. I am proud of him, as I am my other three sons in the service, also my son-in-law, because all of them volunteered.

I hate to see him go. In a former generation he would have been considered a middle-aged citizen. He is a home owner, a taxpayer, a voter, a husband, the father of two children and a Christian.

He is a civil engineer, and for several years he has been employed by TVA. The TVA wanted to transfer him to Chattanooga. He is being relieved at his own request. Many memories crowd into my mind as my oldest son says good-bye to his mother and me, his wife and their children. They are the same kind of memories that fill the minds and hearts of multiplied millions of fathers who have been telling their sons good-bye ever since 1940.

They are memories of other days when men of military age were babies and small boys. We remember the sacrifices we made in World War One so that these little ones would not have to do what my son did today. We remember the sorry rations we ate in army camps, the cold bunk houses we slept in, the long hours we worked, even those of us who never left the shores of this country, and we wanted our children to be spared the experiences we had then.

What caused our hopes to go on the rocks is a subject that volumes have been written about.

All four sons joined as privates, and all except the one who left today have won commissions in the army and navy. I do not brag about their rank. They are entitled to no more credit than any boy, many of whom have fought and died as enlisted men. I am proud of the fact they put forth the effort it takes to become officers, and I am proud of the record they have made in combat.

I have talked to parents who are bitter over the sacrifices their sons have been called upon to make. I have a niece whose husband was a reserve officer. He was sent to Africa three years ago and she hasn't seen him since. She recently learned he is being transferred from Italy to China, and she, undoubtedly, feels that he is being mistreated.

My younger son joined the navy less than 30 days after he received his Master of Arts degree from the University of Mississippi, and within a few weeks he was placed aboard an old World War type destroyer and sent on convoy duty to Iceland. It was in the days of the submarine crisis and he was in constant combat until the menace was overcome. His old destroyer is credited with sinking five of Germany's best submarines and two more probably sunk. It took that kind of fighting to clear the North Atlantic for two of his brothers, and a couple of million other soldiers, who were in army training camps and destined to land in Normandy on D-Day last June.

If I were inclined to become bitter I could do so because the younger boy in the navy is now in the amphibious forces in the West Pacific. I would not be human if I did not feel that he had done his part in the Atlantic and that there are others who could attend to the job in the Pacific. Or that with three sons already in the service, and victory in sight, my oldest boy could be left at home. That's not the way it is, however. The threat to our democracy will not end until the Germans are completely crushed, and the Japs are utterly destroyed. It will take more men to complete the job and married men with families are the only ones left except the boys as they become 18.

I know from experience that men with sons in combat overseas have spent anxious days and nights these past four years and I know something of the sacrifices they are making to "keep the home fires burning" against the happy day when the boys will come back.

I also know what it means to have a son shot down and wounded on the battlefield by German beasts who have brought misery to untold millions of people in Europe. And I know how to sympathize with the families of this county who sent sons away who will never return.

I believe anybody who has four sons to volunteer their services to their country in its hour of greatest need is justified in being proud of it, and I am using this space for the sole purpose of expressing it.

The above was copied from the Paris Post-Intelligencer, and written by the publisher, W. P. Williams. He is our publisher, too. We feel that his thoughts express the thoughts of other fathers and mothers here today, and in behalf of all parents who have sons in the military forces, we took the privilege of quoting the above editorial.

THE PLANNING FOR CALLOWAY

Post War planning for Calloway is being worked by many. Present. The fishing beaches are getting the lead. Of course it is the fishing season, but like a town farmer without an income, it is a hard way.

More important is the Rural Road improvement, in the agricultural sections, getting to the Lake will be a problem, so will getting to the market, if roads are allowed to wash away for lack of drainage and grading.

I was out in the Taylor Store section last Sunday; of course at the Old Providence Church. I traveled over two roads in the circle, came back by Lynn Grove and found the roads in bad shape, except the water in most holes was dried up. What has become of the Rural Road money? Two days would fix the road from Lynn Grove to the Tennessee line, but there are several roads going south; however 10 days would fix all the roads in South Swann precinct. Now if $500 could be allotted to each precinct in the county, all roads could be graded before September 1st. However there is a problem confronting them — the matter of right of way clearing.

Calloway County probably has the highest average value for farm lands of any surrounding counties, with well kept homes and lawns (thanks to the ladies), but in many cases one has to get in front of the house to see it because of roadside thickets. Well, if the graders have to clear the right of way, it will cost too much, and delay too long. Why not get your bear, pole and stone wood off the roadside. Can't call it fence rails because there are few fences, and no place to put a fence until cleared away.

There is enough unavaliable pasture land to run Murray stock Yard one day a week through summer if cattle could be run on pasture which is now unfenced. Cattle could make their living and be happy doing it. Two or three wires, or electric, or better still a bulldog and hog tight fence. Wire will be available soon, and the way to keep down a depression is to fence your farm, with the money now in hand, with the subsidies collected from dairy products and AAA programs. The droppings from livestock has made a great showing on land huffing in the last 15 years. With the Milk Plant and now the increased beef cattle, which must have more grazing, there are many acres unfenced that can be made profitable.

Clear road sides, for better roads, fence lands for more livestock. We must make our farms for more people to live in Calloway if we would hold population with more public workers to commute daily to the plant. T. E. TURNER

What Do We Have to Gripe About?

(From GEORGE H. GOODMAN)

The other day I met a discharged veteran just coming home. He was a boy from a rural county in Kentucky, and his clear thinking and common sense were something to make every American proud of these boys.

He was a fine clean chap, 25 years old, and had spent seven years in the Army and 41 months of it overseas. He had served for 11 months on bleak Iceland; trained in Ireland, Scotland and England. He had been in the French invasion and, as part of General Patton's Army, had fought across France and Germany. He had earned the stripes of a Staff Sergeant, service ribbons and battle stars, and now his part of the fighting job was done and he was home. How did he feel about things in general?

Here is how he summed it up! HIS General (Patton) was the greatest guy that ever wore a uniform, his outfit was the "fighting" bunch of men in the world. He considered himself a pretty lucky fellow — he had seen 11 foreign countries, saved $3,000, come home in good health and received one minor wound. America was a lucky nation to have escaped the horrors of war, and it was a great country.

And what were his plans? Well, he was going to visit the folks for two weeks and then go to school to learn a trade that he had become interested in during his service. After he finished and was settled in a job he was going to marry the girl who had been waiting.

Now what has this incident to do with us in OPA and on the homefront? Just this. Here was a man who had been through some of the bloodiest battles of this war. He had waded mud, slept in cold-rain and snow for 41 months, thousands of miles from home, and he did not have one "gripe." So I wonder just what you and I really have to "gripe" about?

Civilians At War

The Government needs and asks its citizens in the 182nd week of the war against Japan to:

1. Take a West-Coast job repairing battle-damaged war vessels if you are an electrician, machinist, boiler-maker or skilled repair man. Apply to your United States Employment Service Office for details on these top priority jobs.

2. Plant late crop vegetables while there is still time in most states. Tomatoes, one of the most important of these, will be an essential source of vitamin C next winter.

3. Join the Waves for Hospital Corps work and general duty. Increased Pacific casualties make the need urgent for 2,000 recruits per month. Write Waves, Washington, D. C., for information booklet.

Highlights Of Meat Control

Highlights of War Mobilization Director Vinson's new meat control plan to encourage slaughter of cattle and hogs and to improve meat distribution are as follows:

1. To assure cattle feeders protection against price changes, there will be no downward revision in the over-riding ceiling prices or in the maximum of the stabilization ranges for beef cattle, except bulls, without at least six months advance notice to producers.

2. Effective May 19, 1945, the commodity Credit Corporation will make a payment to the seller of 50 cents per hundred pounds on AA and A grade cattle sold for slaughter weighing 800 pounds or more, which have been covered by the last thirty days or more.

3. The Defense Supplies Corporation will increase the pork subsidy payment 40 cents per live hundredweight, retroactive to April 1, 1945. This will be continued in effect only until completion of a more thorough accounting study, following which the payment rate will be adjusted (not retroactive), and a provision will be included for reduction of the subsidy as hog prices decline. Effective April 1, 1945, the total pork subsidy will be $1.70 per live hundredweight, as compared with the previous rate of $1.30.

4. Subsidy payments on all grades of cattle will be increased by the Defense Supplies Corporation 25 cents per live hundredweight effective June 4, 1945. Payments are subject to the withdrawal of 4 cents of the subsidy for each 5-cent decline in the average drove costs, from the maximum to the minimum of the stabilization range, with a minimum subsidy payment of 25 cents per hundredweight. The new subsidy rates are as follows:

Grade AA . . . $3.00 per cwt.
Grade A . . . 2.85 per cwt.
Grade B . . . 1.90 per cwt.
All other grades . . . 1.25 per cwt.

5. The above rates are applicable to both processing and non-processing slaughterers effective June 4, 1945. The additional subsidy for non-processing slaughterers of cattle will be 40 cents per hundredweight.

6. Set-aside orders for Government purchases of meat will be adjusted by the War Food Administration to that a greater proportion of the Government requirements will be drawn from those federally inspected plants which are slaughtering more than their normal proportion of the total slaughter. In filling Governmental requirements, more meat will be taken from the plants with a heavy slaughter and less from the plants with light slaughter.

7. To make it possible to keep livestock in the hands of those operators who comply with OPA price ceiling regulations, and to eliminate black market operations, the Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration will develop a plan by June 15 to show the movement of all livestock through public stockyards and public sales yards, so that information as to the destination of all such livestock will be available.

HEART THOUGHTS BY L. HART

It was house cleaning week for a friend of mine who told me the following story of her week:

"Curtains were down, rugs rolled up and floors were to be cleaned and waxed, windows needed scrubbing. The head of the house arose earlier than usual that particular morning of the first day and went out to move the cattle. He returned in time for breakfast and made a solemn pledge that he would take the springs from the bed and turn the hose on them out doors, and he would take the winter clothes to the locker upstairs to spray for moth prevention, and he would wash the screens, and would do many other hard-to-get-done tasks.

"Before we knew it he had found a business caller out front that needed something transacted up town. That call took him off for a couple of hours, and by the time he returned, he had decided that there needed to be new shelves made in the storage room in the basement.

"We didn't say a word, even though the springs were still in the rooms, and the screens hanging on the windows. Before too long we hear 'Where's the hammer?' I left it, down here with the saw I borrowed from the neighbor, and I want to know who moved it.

"We all stopped what we were doing, and looked for the hammer because we did want the shelves fixed. After another saw was borrowed and the hammer was located, he started to work on the shelves.

"One plank was located and placed in position, when he decided that the mare in the back lot needed some feed. He excused himself secretly, and was gone until about time for lunch.

"A hurried dinner of potted ham, crackers, a cup of coffee, and maybe a good supply of peanut butter and pickles, and a dressed egg made the total meal. We all looked wistfully around for something better, and then viewed again the turmoil of housecleaning. We ate the food silently and hopefully that the tomorrow would bring a regular menu.

"After dinner, the master of the house decided that it would be much more economical and much easier, physically, if he secured some help. So at the end of the week the windows and screens and the springs were cleaned and the rugs returned to the floors and life assumed a normal routine.

"Spring cleaning was done, but not by the head of the house and the shelves in the storage room are still unfinished, and the borrowed saws are to be returned yet."

My friend's experience reminds me of mine last week. I have just finished redecorating and arranging my brother's house for renting. Having a house painted, the floors refinished, and tenants pushing you for time is something that might try my patience. Finally the ox got in the ditch, and I persuaded Ruth Clifton and Mother to help me out late Sunday afternoon when we hung the curtains. Maggie thinks I am the chief sinner because occasionally I have to do something like this on Sunday. But finally this morning about 9:30 I put the last slip cover on, hung the last picture, and locked the door on the finished job. I made a solemn vow that this is the last time I will rework the house. I have figured that by the time these people will want to vacate, Harry and Georgia will know definitely when they will return to Murray to occupy it again.

The house will be occupied by the Reverend Jarman who has been employed as pastor of the First Christian Church.

My heart was full at the commencement program at the High School Friday night, and my thoughts produced tears that just would fall. I remember my own commencement, the songs we sang, the words that were said. The song, "The Rosary," particularly was the most touching. I was not the only one who used the handkerchief. I noticed the crowd was silent and impressed by the whole program. Miss Charlene Orr, the salutatorian, brought back happy days of 1921 when her mother, Laid, and rose from the grave on vernal Outland Orr, and all her classmates my special students. She looked like her mother, and reminded me of lovely students scattered all over the world. Suzanne Miller, too, was lovely in speaking her valedictory, "My Day." What could be more inspirational than a class of lovely high school graduates, robed in white, enjoying their commencement?

We had a good laugh at the luncheon Monday when we heard a report of the opening morning of the Community Vacation Bible School. It seems that Frank Allen Pool was the feature of entertainment in his class in a contest on Bible Questions. He brought the class into fits of laughter when he answered with the explanation that Moses was the man that was born and rose from the grave on Easter Morning. As a result of Frank Allen's pranks, Kirk is getting a lot of kidding down town about his child's Bible information.

A siege of typhoid vaccinations is on. Children are getting ready for camps and swimming. Two little youngsters on Olive Street got a round of typhoid shots because they got "fisty" and lay down and drank out of the creek back of their house a short time ago. They reported they just drank a "cup full or two." Now, like Rayburn and Herbie Oakley, they are a little state of officers for the college, because they got pretty sick with some of the inoculations.

A committee of Alumni of Murray State College, whose job it was to amend the constitution and present a slate of officers for the annual meeting of grads who met at Carman Graham's office and worked, then adjourned for a longer session, at my home Monday night. It was fun reviewing the names of all the graduates of the college, and talking about their achievements, their location, and studying the results of the Association's work and talking about what might be done. The field is ripe for all schools to make preparation for the returning service men who are already entering school and using the G. I. provision for financial aid. Advertising through the students and the Alumni Association for students for the school would aid in returning to a normal enrollment, was the opinion of the group including Wayne Rayburn, Miss Ruby Smith, Guy Billington and I, who gave over five years to the serious questioning that concerned the Alumni Association. The college has 2000 graduates scattered over the world today — a number that can be a mighty power for their alma mater.

What would you have done if the colored man took the disc to the garden and sliced down all the fine tomato plants that you had carefully set 48 hours before? That was the experience we had at our house Monday. Charlie Denham had given George some superb tomato plants, and he had taken extra pains in planting them. We don't have them any more.

CPL. R. KENTON BROACH WRITES FROM AUSTRIA

Cpl. R. Kenton Broach, member of the hard-fighting 10th Armored Division, has written a letter to his editor cousin of his experiences in the battles overseas and of his hopes of the future. Cpl. Broach is the son of Mrs. Loretta Broach of Coldwater, and has two brothers, Lt. Fred and Sgt. Barber Broach in the service. His letter is quoted:

Somewhere in Austria

Hello Loechie:

This is a very nice town in the mountains. The snow-covered mountain tops are really beautiful. The mountain streams are lovely. How I would like to spend a day or so fishing, but I guess there are more important things to do. We were all sent over here to do a job. Down deep in my heart I believe the 10th Armored Division has done its part. We have been in some tough spots. No one will ever know how we ever got out. Without the Lord's help we would have been in a bad spot but

Are You Properly Registered?

You can register any time from now to Tuesday night, June 5, at the County Clerk's office. Do not blame the election officers if you neglect your registration. If you have moved from your precinct or become of age to register.

All voters should take interest enough in the government to vote in City, County, State and National elections.

The farmers are making up for a backward season and are doing their best to produce enough to feed the people, and should have the support of all, and especially any who can spare a day to help them in their efforts. All who can should raise gardens and truck patches — it will help.

The road problem is a vital one. We must have farm to market roads to market surplus truck and fruits. Road men like to stay on main roads, and neglect rural roads, which is a bad policy for Calloway.

We have a large stock of Straw Hats and Work Clothing and Shoes.

Come in to see us every time you are in town.

he carried us through. John Adams sends me the paper when he has a chance. I have just got through reading all the boys' letters in the paper. Sorry to hear about all the boys' bad luck over here. If any of them think they have been in a tough spot, they should have been with CCB of the 10th Armored Division up at Bastogne, Belgium when the Germans made their breakthrough, or should I say when they tried to really saw some long faces but every one had that old fighting spirit. At all times every one has had a hard time but it is a lot easier now. It looks like it is just about over. I guess now it will be the CCB for a lot of us. The quicker it's all over, the quicker we may get home. Without a doubt that is what every G.I. is longing for. There are lots of boys here from Murray, but I can't run up on any of them. Here's hoping they all return to Murray safe and sound.

WITH THE 70TH INFANTRY DIVISION IN GERMANY — The 2000-year-old first signs of Mainz erected by the conquering Romans and the present-day ruins inflicted by the conquering allies have been viewed side by side by Pfc. James T. Roberts, Almo, Ky.

A member of the 27th Infantry Regiment, he was among groups of his comrades taking advantage of twice-daily sight-seeing tours conducted by the 27th Special Service Office. The regiment was currently getting a "breathing spell" along the Rhine River after previous continuous frontline duty.

The tour was inaugurated on the principle that, while countless Americans had paid in peacetime vast sums of money to visit this historic and scenic section, most of the soldiers were unable to visit most of the spots and were unaware of the significance of those they did see.

At first glance, Mainz is nothing but ruins. Although life is beginning to flow somewhat normally there now, it is still predominantly rubble heaps and external shells of buildings. Strategic military centers were particularly blasted.

Amidst all this, the famed Cathedral of Mainz was practically undamaged. Pfc. Roberts could see no apparent damage to any of the 75 beautiful, inspiring, and valuable statutory groups. Erection of the church began in 965, and Frederick Barbarossa and other rulers of his era were crowned there.

He attended Almo High School and farmed before going into service.

SKV 3-c Hugh Alton was home recently with friends and relatives. He has been in school in Jacksonville, Fla. for the past six weeks. SKV 3-c Alton left Tuesday and will report to San Clemente, Calif. for duty.

WO-JG JOSEPH F. MURPHY HOME FROM OVERSEAS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., May 28 — WO-JG Joseph F. Murphy, 28, of Route 2, Hazel, Ky., has arrived at Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach for reassignment processing after completing a tour of duty outside the continental United States.

Medical examinations and classification interviews at this post, pioneer of several redistribution stations operated by the AAF Personnel Distribution Command for AAF returnees officers and enlisted men, will determine his new assignment. He will remain at the redistribution station about two weeks, much of which will be devoted to rest and recreation.

Warrant Officer Murphy was a communications officer during 26 months in the Mediterranean theater of operations. Husband of Mrs. Dolly M. Murphy, of Route 2, Hazel, he entered the Army in August, 1938. His mother, Mrs. Marion G. Lovett, lives on Route 2, Mill Road, Pleasantville, N. J.

SGT. JAY L. MILLER IN DOOLITTLE'S CREW

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE STATION, ENGLAND — Among the 185,000 men and women of the Eighth Air Force congratulated after VE-Day by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, their commander, was Sgt. Jay L. Miller, South Twelfth street, Murray.

"I wish to extend my personal congratulations and shy heartfelt appreciation to every one of you for the magnificent job you have done," Gen. Doolittle said in a message to all personnel.

"Each of you," he continued, "may be proud of your part in the defeat of Germany. I am proud of you. The world is proud of you."

The Eighth Air Force was the world's mightiest strategic bombing force. Its personnel of 185,000 was the equivalent of 12 infantry divisions, and it could send 21,000 airmen in 2,000 four-engine bombers and 1,000 fighters over Germany at one time, a combat effort possible only through the support of tens of thousands of non-flying specialists.

The Eighth dropped an average of a ton of bombs every minute of the last 12 months.

Airmen of the Eighth were the first Americans to attack Germany.

As the Eighth grew in strength, it was assigned the task of crushing the German Air Force, which had to be done before the Allies could invade France. Bombers of the Eighth smashed Nazi aircraft production centers. Its fighters destroyed thousands of enemy planes in the air and on the ground.

After beating the Luftwaffe into relative impotency, the Eighth threw its growing weight against Germany's rail system and vital sources of oil. These campaigns, in conjunction with the British Royal Air Force and the U.S. 15th Air Force, disorganized all transport in Germany, restricted German military operations in the air and on the ground, and paved the way for the march of Allied armies across Europe.

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Pfc. Boyd Linn of 300, North Fourth street, Murray, Ky., has arrived at the Oliver General Hospital here from overseas for further medical treatment.

Oliver General Hospital is one of the Army's great medical institutions, and has a bed capacity of 2,240. "It represents the final step in the chain of evacuation from the front lines.

Thousands of wounded and sick men from the European Theater continue to be evacuated and receive treatment here.

Medical facilities are of the finest, and the staff has been well trained over years of hospital operation. Recreational facilities for the new patient include a gymnasium, a moving picture theater, an indoor swimming pool, and the 18-hole golf course.

Friends of the new arrival are asked not to telephone because of congested wire facilities. Mail is welcomed by every patient and is handled rapidly.

CAPTAIN R. ERNEST JONES HOME AFTER 65 MISSIONS; COMMISSIONED IN APRIL

Captain Richard Ernest Jones, 24, is home after 15 months piloting an A-20 light bomber over Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Commodore Jones, who are home too from Detroit while their son is here this week. He has a 30-day leave, and he arrived in Boston May 13. Captain Jones reported home unharmed with 65 missions to his credit.

Captain Jones volunteered April 1942, from Lexington where he was doing post graduate work in agriculture. He attended Murray State College three years after graduating from Lynn Grove. He secured his Smith-Hughes degree from the University in 1940. He received his lieutenant's commission at Yuma, Ariz., 1943, and was promoted to captain in France April 1, 1945.

After a brief stay here he will report for redistribution center, Santa Anna, Calif. He will accompany his parents to Detroit for the remainder of the stay.

In giving a brief review of his engagements, Captain Jones stated his biggest thrill overseas was flying over the Channel on D-Day and seeing the progress made by the Allies in crossing into France. His job was blasting targets in the interior and return to the English base for more supplies.

He played a part in blasting Germany in surrender, and his job done, he was well on his way to the States when V-E Day was announced.

ROBERT FRANK HARRIS, S. I. C. AT HOME FROM PACIFIC

Robert Frank Harris, S. I. C. and son of Mrs. Jean Weeks, Route 2, Murray, is at home for 30 days after 26 months in the Pacific. He was in the submarine service and reports home with no wounds and no ships lost after having been in four major engagements. He wears the submarine combat pin and the Asiatic, Pacific, Ribbon and Good Conduct Ribbon.

He attended Almo High School and was in the Ford Trade School, Detroit, when he volunteered February 28, 1942.

This is his first leave since entering the Navy. He arrived Sunday and will be about the county and town visiting friends before returning to Mare Island, Calif.

The Heroes of World War I Remind Us ---
To Buy All The Bonds We Can --- Now ---

They know the cost in human life and equipment, to win even a small military engagement. They know how many boys lie in Flanders Field and who might have been home if the last war was a day, a week, a month shorter. That's why for the sake of their sons and nephews now embroiled in battle they urge us all to buy Bonds and keep them, to shorten the war by speeding Victory.

S. Pleasant Grove

Mrs. Sara Smotherman

We know there have been many hearts saddened lately because of prisoners of the German government who have come marching home for a visit with loved ones. So sorry last week that a message was received by Mrs. Asher Dunn stating that her son Ruble Dunn was killed. He had been overseas a long while but previously been wounded but recovered. He is survived also by a brother in service, Forest Dunn, and two sisters Miss Rubene Dunn and Mrs. Mildred of Detroit. In behalf of his many friends here we extend sympathy to those whose hearts are so sorely touched in the passing of this fine young man. Ruble was one of our boys here who gave his life for his country.

These men can tell you why the 7TH WAR LOAN is the BIGGEST yet!

YOU ARE being asked to lend more money than ever before—in the 7th War Loan. These men can tell you why. They can tell you of giant ships ready to slide down the ways this year.

They can tell you of a whole new air force in the building—huge new bombers and fast new jet-propelled planes coming off the lines by thousands. They could show you why it is cheaper and quicker to give our Pacific Forces entirely new equipment sometimes—instead of shipping tanks and guns from Europe.

They can, in short, show you 101 ways in which your dollars are needed more than ever to bring America's might to its full strength—so that we may crush our foe the faster, make an end of killing, and bring our men back home.

Will you tell these men "I can't afford to buy my share"?

THE GENERALS and admirals can show us why our money is needed—more money than before. But other men can show us something, too. They're the men with twisted, crippled limbs... with clever iron hooks instead of hands. The blind men... the men with scarred, seamed faces. And perhaps worst of all, the men with blasted, darkened minds.

They can show us, clearly, how small is any sacrifice we make in lending money.

If you have an income, whether from work, land, or capital, you have a quota in the 7th War Loan. Find out what that quota is—and make it!
